

NATIONAL BESTSELLER

THE VOLCANO LOVER

A Romance

SUSAN SONTAG

"A passionate and often radical novel of ideas that affords all the old-fashioned pleasures of a traditional historical novel." —New York Times

THE ENIGMA
OF ARRIVAL

V. S.
NAIPAUL

Dialogue with Nature

THE HOMESTEAD

BY JAMES R. DODD

BLACON HILL FROM DERNE STREET.

BEACON HILL FROM THE RESERVOIR SITE BETWEEN HANCOCK AND TEMPLE STREETS

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
DEPARTMENT OF MINES, MINERALS AND ENERGY
DIVISION OF MINERAL RESOURCES

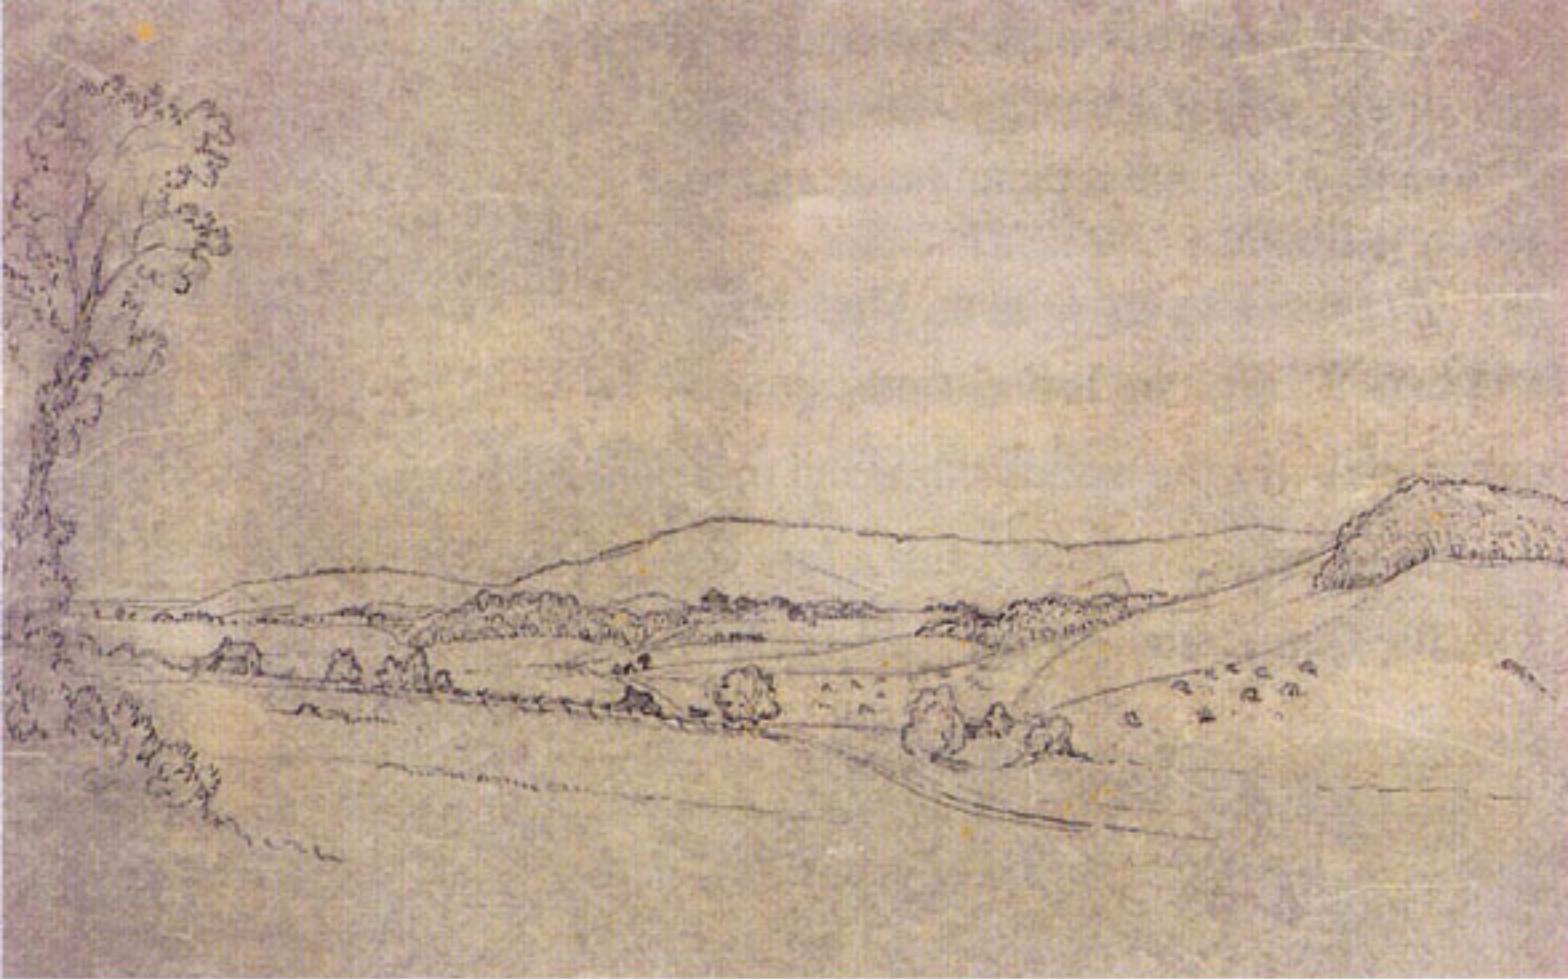

GEOLOGIC MAP OF VIRGINIA

Scale
0 10 20 30 50 miles

CENOZOIC	MESOZOIC	PALEOZOIC	PRECAMBRIAN	ROCKS OF UNCERTAIN AGE
QUATERNARY (0.1 million years) Sand and gravel, sand and gravel.	TERTIARY (0.1-10 million years) Lenses or partly interbedded with sand and clay, and sandstone. Shale, sand, and silt. Cemented sand, shale, and light-weight aggregate.	CRETACEOUS (100-65 million years) Partly interbedded with sand and clay, and sandstone. Sand and clay.	PENNPLIAN (270-130 million years) Sandstone, shale, sand and calcareous limestone. Sand, sandstone, shale, and calcareous limestone.	VIRGINIA BLUE RIDGE COMPLEX Older than 400 million years. Granite and gneiss. Crushed zones.
		PENNSYLVANIAN (300-200 million years) Sandstone, shale, sand and calcareous limestone. Sand, sandstone, shale, and calcareous limestone.	MISSISSIPPIAN- DEVONIAN (300-40 million years) Sandstone, shale, sand and calcareous limestone. Sand, sandstone, shale, and calcareous limestone.	GRANITE and GNEISS Granite, gneiss, metagneiss, and gneiss. Crushed zones.
			SILURIAN- ORDOVICIAN (400-500 million years) Sandstone, shale, sand and calcareous limestone. Sand, sandstone, shale, and calcareous limestone.	METAMORPHIC ROCKS AND RIBBLEB INTERFACIES Schist, slate, schistose, metamorphic rocks, and metamorphic and magmatic granite, gneiss, diorite, and gabbro. Crushed zones, angular fragments, and metamorphic minerals.

4.10 Russell Smith, View of [the] University of Virginia and Monticello Mountain, taken from back and to the left, c. 1844, ink, 12 x 16½ in. (Courtesy of Library of Virginia)

